—Mr. W. P. Hazlewood was in to see us Friday. He has been postmaster of Cedar Chapel since 1873, and says that the reason he is continued is because the salary does not justify the republicans in making much racket over it.

—Mr. James Smith, of Fulton, Ky., was killed by an accident on Beach river trestle, near Livingston on the Tennessee Midland road last Friday, and his remains were buried at Covington. Mr. Smith was raised in Hardeman county.

—Rev. W. C. Alexander has moved into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Sam Kahn, which has been purchased by the Presbytery for a congregation for a parsonage. Mr. Kahn moved to Capt. R. H. Wood's residence. Capt. Wood will board with his son in law, Dr. Tate.

—Why is it that the people of Hardeman county will send their job work to Nashville, Jackson and other places, when it can be done equally as well right here in Bolivar? Patronize your home paper, and if we don't give you satisfaction we will not require pay for the work.

—Mr. John A. Crofford, formerly of Saulsbury, this county, but who has been in business at Covington for a number of years, has bought an interest in the C. R. Ryan Grocery Company of Memphis and has been elected vice president of the same. Few men possess the business tact of Mr. Crofford, and success is almost certain to follow his new venture.

—Mr. Frank Luther will leave this week for Memphis, where he expects to engage in the drug business. He has splendid business qualifications, is a fine prescrip-tionist, thoroughly understands every line of his business, and will no doubt be successful in the Bluff City. Bolivar regrets to lose such young men, but congratulates Memphis, the metropolis of the South, on securing his citizenship.

—Alf Parker, colored, took advantage of the absence of Mr. Chas. Miller last Sunday morning, and carried off three hams or meat. Marshal Perry was informed of the theft, and went to work immediately on the case and by shrewd investigation succeeded in fastening the guilt on Parker's shoulders, who finally acknowledged everything and was placed in jail Tuesday evening, where he will remain until Mr. Miller returns from Nashville.

—Miss Kate Southernland of Memphis, has entered upon her duties as principal of the Blair Institute, in District No. 14, five miles north of Bolivar, and is giving entire satisfaction as a teacher. She has thirty-five pupils. Miss Lula Slauterback of Clarksville has been elected to take charge of the Franklin Institute in district No. 5. These young ladies come with the highest recommendations. They are both graduates of normal colleges and we congratulate our friends on securing their services.

—Dr. Jas. J. Neely, Jr., health officer for Hardeman county, has the following report in the State Board of Health Bulletin: "The health of Bolivar and its vicinity is remarkably good. Diseases affecting the respiratory organs are fewer than was ever known at this season of the year. Not one case of pneumonia has been reported in this vicinity this winter; in fact, upon inquiry from physicians from most all parts of the county, not one has reported a case of pneumonia, and all report less sickness than is usual at this season of the year. This community is absolutely free from all contagious and epidemic diseases."

He Arrived Safely.

LAFAYETTE.

Shandy.

The traveler on the Illinois Central railroad sees this name on the sign board of a neat little passenger depot, three miles north of Bolivar, Tenn. It at once calls to mind the immortal "Tristram" general "Uncle Toby," and all the inimitable humor of Sterne. "Shandy" is here however, a mnemonic for four things of greater importance to the Christian readers of the Observer. Shandy No. 1, is the railroad station, water tank, and largest warehouse on the Southern division of the Illinois Central railroad. Shandy No. 2, is a fine estate, of about 4,000 acres lying on the Big Hatchie river, and comprising some of the finest "bottom lands" of Hardeman county. A flock of Angora goats may usually be seen from the car windows; Jersey cattle graze in the fields, and a fine dairy is one of the features of the farm. Here, also, the breeding of blooded horses and swine receive careful attention. The house, a typical Southern home well known for its generous hospitality, is situated on a high knoll, commanding a fine view of the church, the depot, hundreds of acres of "bottoms," covered in summer with waving corn, and also of the railroad, where the trains may be seen issuing from a deep cut, traversing over a mile of track, and crossing the Hatchie as it is lost to sight. "Shandy" is owned by Hon. Jas. Fentress, General Solicitor for the Illinois Central Railroad Company, familiarly known to his neighbors as the "Judge," and very pleasantly to his railroad associates, as "The Sage of Shandy." Judge Fentress being an ardent admirer of Sterne, named his estate for the hero of Sterne's greatest work. Here, with his family he dwells, while from his office he directs the multifarious legal interests of that gigantic corporation, the Illinois Central Railroad Company.

Shandy No. 3, is a day school, under the management of a talented young teacher, whose success, both in the day and Sabbath school is due no less to noble qualities of heart than of mind.

Shandy No. 4, is Shandy church, and Sabbath school. The church building, a beautiful brick edifice, capable of seating 350 persons, was built and furnished by Judge Fentress for the use and benefit of the community. It is well heated and filled with patent school desks which are used in the day school, and then adjusted for the congregation Sundays. There is at present regular preaching twice per month, once by Rev. C. C. McDaniel, a well-known and highly respected Baptist preacher, and once by the pastor of the Presbyterian church at Bolivar. The congregations are large and attentive. The Sabbath school numbers eighty-five scholars, and is the most encouraging feature of the work. The success of the school is due to the faithfulness of several teachers and to the untiring and persistent efforts of Judge Fentress, who every Sabbath, lays aside the dignity and cares of his responsible office for the higher and greater work of teaching and superintending a country Sabbath school where there is a large number of young men, intelligent and helpful, from whom much is expected. In a recent letter to that excellent paper, The Western (Baptist) Recorder, a Baptist brother, Rev. A. B. Cahan, thus gives an account of Shandy and its work:

NOBLE EXAMPLE OF A PRESBYTERIAN LAYMAN.
In two miles of Bolivar, the county seat of Hardeman, I came to the residence of Judge James Fentress, an Old School Presbyterian.

On the road in front of his house, at his own cost, he has erected a handsome brick church in modern style. Two fine chandeliers, and a pipe organ are a part of the interior features, with a library of 150 volumes for the Sunday school. He keeps up a Sunday school for the benefit of the children on the North side of the river, who would not cross the Big Hatchie bottom and long leave to get church in town. He also employs a Baptist and Presbyterian minister to preach once a month, each, for the benefit of the community on that side of the river. In addition to this he employs a young lady to teach a day school in this chapel for the benefit of his own children and those in his community, and others. To widen the measure of his benevolence, he also takes twenty-five copies of the Christian Observer for weekly distribution in the community.

Dr. Eaton will please step into Editor Converse's sanctum and give him my congratulations on having such a generous patron of his paper, and such a splendid object lesson of Christian benevolence in his Church. Such a man is a benediction to any community, and his example will, we trust, stimulate other Christian men of means to go and do likewise.

He has caught the true spirit of Christianity in dispensing his charity while living, and not keeping it to be wasted in law suits by covetous relatives and greedy lawyers, when he is dead and can hold it no longer himself.—Rev. W. C. ALEXANDER, in Christian Observer.

"If humor, wit and honesty could save" from the ill flesh is heir to, what a good price they'd bring in the market! Well, twenty-five cents will buy a good jannex—Salvation Oil a certain cure.

The present railroad map of Jackson won't be worth a copper in five years from now. At that time you will trace the following new lines, viz: The Gulf & Ship Island R. R. the Jackson Branch of the L. & N. the Kansas City, Jackson & Birmingham R. R. and the Ohio Valley or some other northern outlet for the Gulf & Ship Island. The fact is Jackson is one of the necessary keys to the Southern railway situation and we are bound to change the map. Yes in five years from now Jackson will have seven railroads and 25,000 people.—Jackson Whig.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

A PHYSICIAN'S WARNING!

Of all the terrible, soul-affrightening curses that afflict all classes of humanity, nothing in all ages has ever approached comparison to the ravages of BLOOD POISON.

It strikes with destructive aim the most notable, sparing neither king nor statesman.

Even unto the third generation are the sins of the fathers made manifest.

What a fearful heritage to bequeath an innocent child! Ah! the horrible ravages of this affliction!

To its activity is due sore throat, sore liver, sore kidneys, sore lungs, sore skin, great ulcers, internal, external and eternal unless proper treatment is applied.

The best remedy is a prescription used extensively in private practice by an old Atlanta physician. It is now prepared a thousand gallons at a time, and is sold in large bottles at only one dollar per bottle.

It is called B. B. D. or B. B. D. Blood Balm. Under its peculiar influence the blood poison first becomes passive, then divided, and lastly is exuded through the liver, through the kidneys, and through the pores of the skin.

It is clearly the duty of every one who suspects the least trace of syphilis or scrofulous poison in their blood, whether recently contracted or from inheritance, to get out of their system thoroughly.

PAIN by the use of this great remedy so that pimples, sores, aches, pains, weak kidneys and other symptoms will not be transmitted to innocent posterity.

Demand it of your druggist and take no substitute. Testimonials from those who have used it may be found in the illustrated "Book of Wonders" sent free to any address by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.
